

HACIENDA MATAPALO ARCHITECT

Miguel Wong is one of the most experienced and talented architects working in Costa Rica.

Miguel's broad and diverse background has garnered him an impressive portfolio boasting over 130 different projects, both large and small. After earning an architectural studies degree from the University of Costa Rica, he received his Masters of Science in Urban Development from Loughborough University in England. As an active member of the College of Engineers, he has completed extensive work with the Costa Rican Government. In addition, he served as a chairman AND as the National Director for Urban Planning at INVU, the National Institute of Housing and Urban Development. He has served as a consultant for such projects as Los Suenos Resort and Marina, Papagayo Resort, Banana Bay Marina, the Melia-Conchal Hotel, Marina Golfito, Los Delfines, Tambor Hotel, Marina Playa Paquera, and Lake Arenal Hotel, as well as three large-scale housing developments: Gran Chacarita, La Resdad, and Santa Maria.